KAY PROJECT

In early November Arizona Metals hosted a site visit at its 100% owned Kay Project located in mining friendly Arizona.

In early November Arizona Metals hosted a site visit at its 100% owned Kay Project located in mining friendly Arizona. The Company hosted two one-day events that were well attended by both retail and institutional investors. The tour included viewing of the two drills currently operating to define and expand the historic Kay deposit, followed by a tour to view the Central and Western targets and a visit to the core warehouse. Drill results at Kay are pending and will be released once the assays are received. View recently published drill results
